

RISH EXPECT LENIENT RULE

Greenwood Expected to Use Conciliatory Tactics As Chief Secretary

TAKES OVER HIS DUTIES

Canadian Faces Tremendous Task as Murders and Discontent Continue.

(Washington Herald-Public Ledger Service, Special Cable Dispatch.)

London, April 27.—Sir Hamar Greenwood, a vigorous, intellectual Canadian, formally has taken over the duties of chief secretary for Ireland. He had his audience with the King and was formally handed the seals of his most important office.

At any period the job of Irish secretary is one of the least sought after, even by the most enthusiastic and energetic young statesmen. It was considered political suicide. But now, judging by the temper of Ireland, it might be regarded not only as suicide politically, but actually.

The ideal Irish secretary is expected to have the hide of a rhinoceros, the industry of a mole, to be brave as a lion and encyclopaedic in intellect. Sir Hamar Greenwood has these, but what is more, it is to be hoped that he will infuse into his administration that breadth of outlook, tact and sympathy usually associated with the Canadian.

Plan Probe of Murders.

His experience, that in that self-governing land will be of enormous value to him in dealing with the Gargantuan task he has just undertaken.

The day's news from Ireland was hardly a happy augury for the new secretary. It was the usual story of murdered police and discovery of concealed arms and more Sinn Féin menaces of uprisings and revolutions. In the Commons, Andrew Bonar Law was closely questioned as to the state of Ireland and owing to the insistent demands of the labor members and the few Irish nationalists left, he had to promise full inquiry. He had asked Dublin Castle to prepare a full report for the criticism of the house. It will be ready in a few days.

Elster Re-asserts Himself.

Under the Home Rule bill now in the Commons, it is proposed to give a separate parliament to the six Ulster counties with the counties of Cavan, Donegal and Monaghan to be included in the Southern parliament. Now the delegates from these counties are asking that the pledge originally given them, that they should be included in the Northern parliament, be fulfilled. That is another little problem for the new secretary to settle.

Rumors are still current regarding Lord French, the old field marshal is in London and has discussed the situation with Bonar Law. He will remain here until the return of the premier. Then there will be a discussion between Lord French, Lloyd George and the new chief secretary, after which Lord French and Sir Hamar Greenwood will visit Ireland. Lord French's attitude emphatically does not suggest resignation.

Nature's Strong Man IS THE MAN WITH FRESH, RED BLOOD

The stomach is the center of the body from which radiates our vitality, strenuousness, our fighting strength. A healthy stomach turns the food we eat into nourishment for the blood stream and the nerves. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery refreshes and tones up the stomach walls. Removes the poisonous gases from the system.

The first day you start to take this reliable medicine, impure germs and accumulations begin to separate in the blood and are then expelled through the liver, bowels and kidneys. Get Dr. Pierce's today from any medicine dealer; it is a powerful blood purifier and tonic.

Chatham, Va.—"I was so weak and run-down last spring that I could not work two hours without sitting down in the field and resting. I sent and got a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, it did me so much good that I sent for three more bottles. After taking them I felt like a new man. I do believe that if it had not been for this medicine I would have had to give up work. So when I hear people say that they are not feeling well I tell them to get a bottle of 'Golden Medical Discovery.'—J. R. TATE, R. F. D. 3.

D.C. SUFFRAGE ELECTION ISSUE

Committee to Fight Convention Candidates Who Oppose Local Cause.

No delegate from the District of Columbia will go to the Republican or Democratic conventions without making pledges for the cause of District suffrage, if the National Press Committee for District of Columbia Suffrage can prevent it.

Announcement was made yesterday that the committee will oppose any candidate for either of the conventions who is not pledged to work for the indorsement of District suffrage.

National Democratic Committee man John F. Costello has already announced his enthusiastic support of District suffrage. He will be one of the principal advocates at San Francisco. John B. Colpoys, who is a trustee of the National Press Committee, and who will be a Democratic delegate to the San Francisco convention, is lining up additional support for the cause.

The committee yesterday sent letters to Aaron Bradshaw, Daniel Murray, Frank J. Hogan, James A. Cobb, Robert I. Miller, Armand W. Scott and W. Calvin Chase, who are candidates for election as delegates to the Republican national convention, asking them how they stand on District suffrage.

Y.W.C.A. WORK STAMPED 'O. K.'

Industrial Service of District Units Approved at National Meet.

"Official endorsement of the industrial work of the Y. W. C. A.," says Miss Florence M. Brown, general secretary here, "was given by the international convention in Cleveland, the first the Y. W. C. A. has held for five years. The national board is to make a careful study of social and economic conditions as they affect women, with the view of improving them by legislation where necessary."

Mrs. Herbert E. Day, first vice president of the association in the District, presided over the girls' work section of the convention. Besides Mrs. Day and Miss Brown, Mrs. William Hamilton Bally, president, and Miss M. O. Buckingham, Mrs. Helen W. Taylor and Miss Vesta M. Little, secretaries, represented Washington.

The single standard, abolition of child labor, conservation of health, one day a week free from work, a living wage, pensions for old age, the right of every individual to the best educational and recreational provisions of the community and a new emphasis on the principles of Christianity were the main principles enumerated.

Would Bar Wife's Evidence Against Condemned Man

An appeal in the case of Frank Bowman, colored, under sentence of death for the killing of Clarence Keefer, a paralytic, in the woods near Brookland on July 6, 1916, was made to the Court of Appeals yesterday by Attorney Robert I. Miller, counsel for the condemned man.

Arguments on the appeal will be heard next week. Attorney Miller's contention is based upon the evidence of Esther Brown, Bowman's common-law wife, an eye-witness to the shooting. He claims her testimony should have been excluded because she was an accessory after the fact. She told of the crime after Bowman had shot her during a quarrel.

French Levy Tax on Love Letters; Unmarried Protest to Government

Washington Herald - Cross Atlantic Service, Special Cable Dispatch.

Paris, April 27.—French lovers, annoyed with a government super-tax of four cents on all love letters, have interposed an objection which bids fair to win their day.

How, they ask, are the postal authorities to determine which are and which aren't; and the riddle hasn't been altogether solved yet. Meantime indignation continues at the proposal.

"What!" exclaimed one pretty Parisienne. "Have these awful ministers never been in love? Have they never trembled at the post restante while asking with palpitating heart, 'Is there anything addressed Y. Z.?'"

The department, "poste restante," is that branch of the French post office which letters are addressed "to be called for," and it is perhaps the busiest section of many postoffices. Under the proposed plan, the super-tax would be levied on all epistles addressed to postoffices, the only exception being in favor of commercial travellers without permanent address.

It is expected the scheme is part of the campaign to encourage marriage by making bachelorhood as expensive as possible.

Page the Ouija Board; Here's A Fair Question

Of all the puzzling questions asked in letters which find their way to the clerk's office of the District Supreme Court, one came yesterday that was the hardest ever.

Addressing his inquiry to "The Clerk of the Circuit Court of Georgetown," T. J. Bryant, a lawyer in Wheatland, Mont., wanted to know to whom three revolutionary residents of what is now the District of Columbia were married. Their names were given as Joshua, Thomas and Clementine Shelton, of Chilton. Their marriages occurred prior to 1790 and in "Rock Creek Parish."

WOMEN ANGLE FOR VERMONT

Delegation of Suffragists Asks Governor to Call Special Session.

Montpelier, Vt., April 27.—"Make Vermont the perfect 36" was the slogan of 300 suffragists wearing daffodils and badges bearing the words "Special Session," who marched to the State House and asked Gov. Clement to call a special session of the legislature to bring Vermont into line on the ratification of the suffrage amendment.

Gov. Clement gave the suffragists little consolation.

He emphasized he favored a referendum.

The delegation represented twelve of the fourteen counties of the State.

A WORLD REBUILT

By the Golden Rule
not by the Rule of Gold

WHAT ARE the most precious elements in American Life?

Respect for the home? Jesus found women slaves; He made them companions. Down through the ages His Church has been the champion of women's rights and aspirations.

Respect for the man who works? It was the Carpenter of Nazareth who gave labor its great charter. "You are sons of God," He said. In that sentence Democracy was born.

Respect for property? Modern business is credit; and credit is character. All that makes property safe in the world is bound up in the reverence for law that religion breeds.

Respect for education? Who gave America her colleges? They were founded by Christian ministers, almost all of them.

On these great essentials must we build a better America, and a better world. And every one of them rests on the foundations of the Christian Church.

Thirty denominations of that Church are uniting now in a simultaneous campaign.

They are uniting because the task before the Church is too great for any one denomination; because there must be no duplication of effort; no waste.

They have had the courage to survey the whole task, and to ask for a budget large enough to sustain (1) the work abroad, (2) the work at home including the Church's part in the huge task of Americanization, (3) the colleges and (4) hospitals supported by the Churches, (5) the religious training of the young, and to provide (6) a living wage for the Church's ministers.

The appeal is to every lover of America, to you whether you are inside the Church or out. The rebuilding of the world is a spiritual task. Faith must be the cornerstone on which the new foundations are laid true; the measuring rod by which the builders build must be the Golden Rule.

Give when the call comes to you—give with your heart as well as your pocket-book
